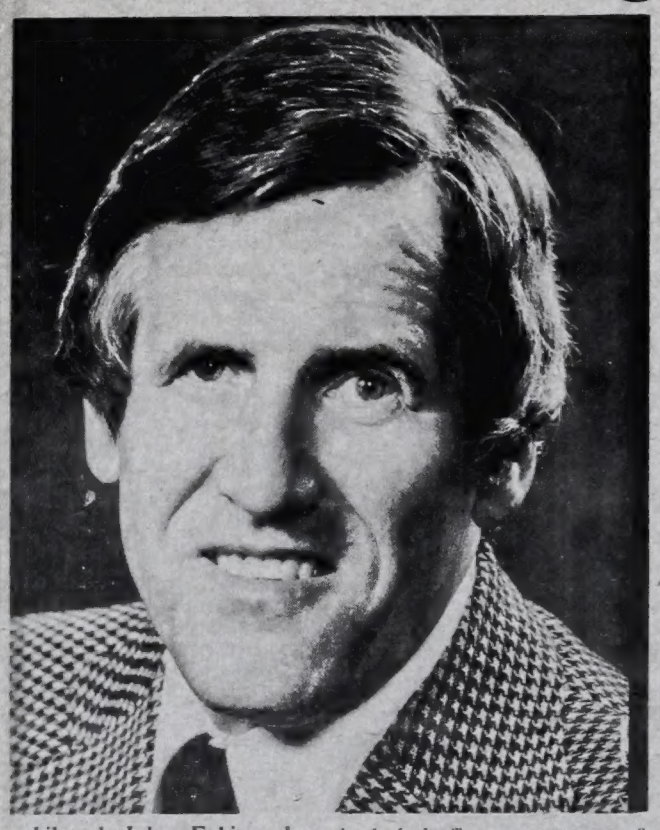
Eakins' stunning victory ends 38 years Tory rule



Liberal John Eakins destroyed Tory stronghold Victoria - Haliburton last Thursday night, sweeping the riding by more than 1,000 votes and ending 38 years of Tory rule.

He defeated Progressive Conservative incumbent Glen Hodgson who was seeking his fourth consecutive term as representative of the riding which once belonged to former Tory leader Leslie Frost.

Mr. Eakins in his third campaign against Mr. Hodgson, pulled into an early lead with the announcement of the first few polls, a lead he was to increase over the evening.

Some of the early returns from key polls gave an indication of what kind of night it would be for the former mayor of Lindsay. The Township of Dalton, a Tory enclave, came in as a tie between Eakins and Hodgson.

"If we tie that one it's just like winning," said Mr. Eakins.

Liberal victories in the former PC areas of Woodville and Burnt River were announced to the cheering crowd of almost 800 people and the smiles of Mr. Eakins.

At 9:10, when the CBC declared Eakins elected, the committee rooms on York Street went wild as Liberals had their first ever taste of victory.

Mr. Eakins said he had thought he would do well. But he never predicts or builds up his hopes, he said.

"I felt we worked hard enough to win. I don't know what else we could have done to win," he said.

The overflow Liberal crowds cheered with the calling out of every new successful poll. They danced with each other, hugged and yelled.

The converted garage exploded in pandemonium when it was announced that Mr. Hodgson, the long-time it was announced that Mr. Hodgson, the long-time nemisis, was on his way over to concede.

Mr. Hodgson was preceded by some of his supporters who walked into the tumultuous Liberal headquarters looking shaken and stunned.

Mr. Hodgson, who could have been celebrating his 12th year in the legislature seven days after the election, appeared visibly unsteady and sullen.

He mounted the stage, and talked to the gathered triumphant Liberals.

"It's been a most unusual campaign. In my experience, when I lose that's unusual. I'm not used to losing," he said.

"Don't expect the government to last long," said Mr. Hodgson. "In a year and half we'll have another campaign.

Mr. Hodgson struck a note of bitterness about accusations during the campaign that he was an unavailable member.

"I have some advice for you, John. Every time you go to the bathroom let the press know, so they know you're doing something."

People began to boo and hiss the veteran politician.

"It's not sour grapes. People didn't know what I was doing and they didn't know what the government was doing," said Mr. Hodgson to another round of boos and hisses.

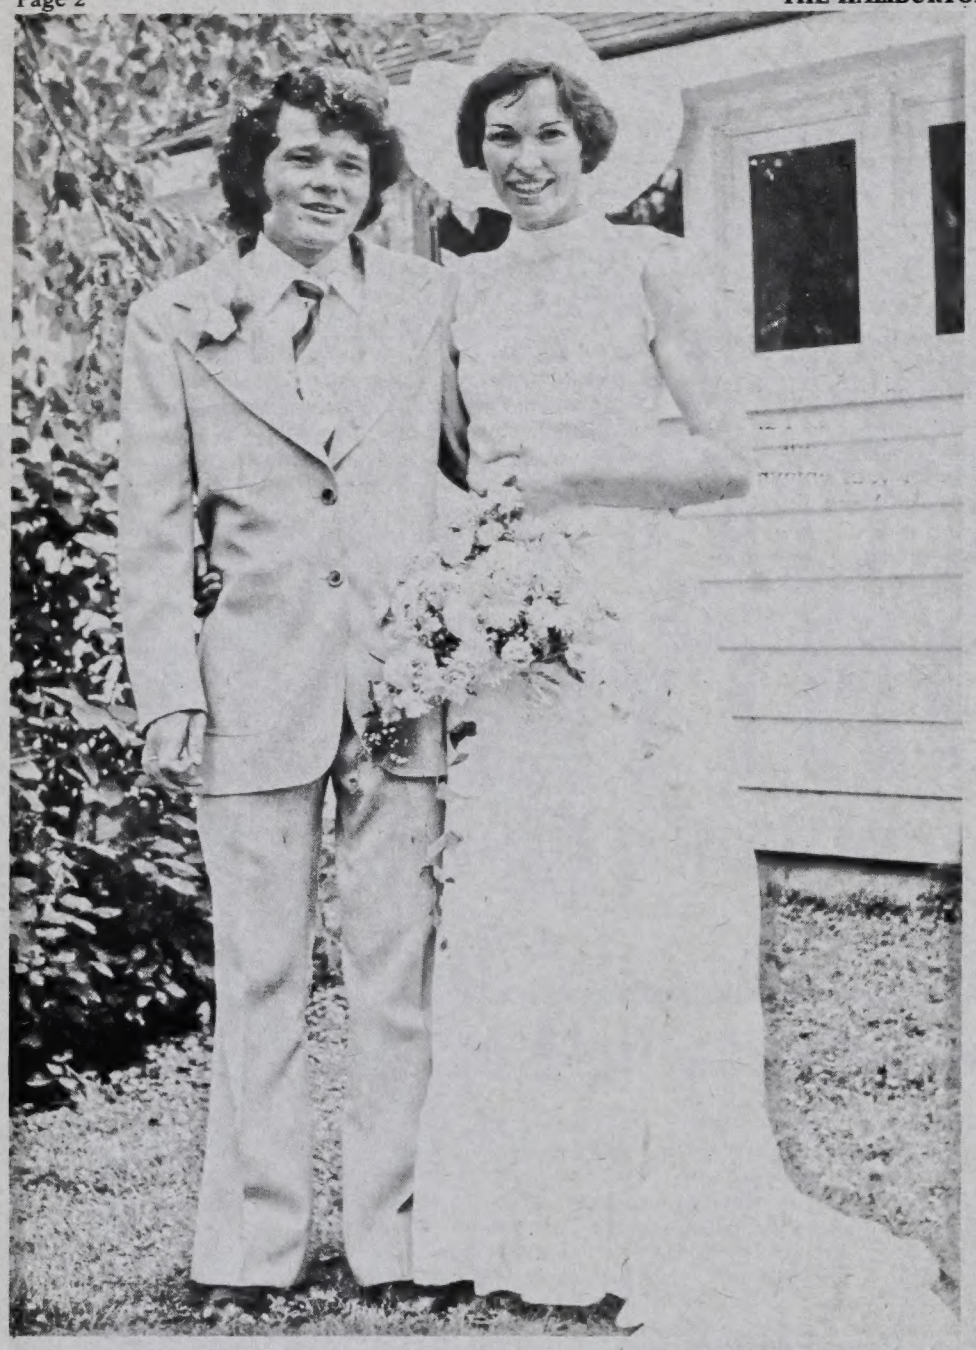
Lindsay doctor's wife among breakin victims

A Lindsay doctor's wife was among the victims of a series of breakins and thefts reported to Coboconk and Minden Ontario Provincial Police detachments over the weekend.

Dr. Hugh Davies and his wife visited their Boshkung Lake cottage on Saturday to find that someone had been there before them and made off with a woman's wristwatch and pink housecoat. Entry was gained by forcing a window and Constable Bill Devereaux is investigating the incident.

Also at Minden detachment, a belated report on the theft of a Zeiss camera and equipment valued at $439 was received. Constable Terry Brown is looking into the theft which occurred near Furnace Falls August 19. The camera and accessories were left in a car belonging to Eleanor Irene Mahers of Thornhill. She told police Saturday the car was locked but entry was gained



Wallace — McCord wedding

On Saturday, Aug. 22nd, 1975 at 4 p.m. in Zion United Church, Carnarvon was the scene of á very pretty wedding when Dorothy Jean Wallace, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Norman Wallace became the bride of Wm. McCord, son of Mr. & Mrs. Ernest McCord of Elora.

The marriage was solemnized in a candelabra setting by Rev. James Bushell.

The soloist, a friend of the bride, Miss Valerie Clark of Omemee sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt and "I'll Walk Beside you" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Marilyn Stouffer played appropriate music and accompanied the soloist.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was given away by her mother and father.

She wore a self-designed sleeveless white dress softly flecked with pink. It featured a sheer neckline, outlined by a dainty ruffle extending over the shoulder. Hand covered buttons at the back, a ruffle around the bottom and a self train falling from the waist line created a graceful effect. She wore a white picture hat with apple blossoms and carried a basket of corn flowers, carnations, baby's breath and trailing ivy. For something old she carried a silk handkerchief carried by her mother and grandmother on their wedding days.

Her matron of honor was her sister Margaret, Mrs. Denis Trudel of Ottawa wearing a dress of matching material in pink flecked with white. It featured short cape sleeves and a ruffle around the bottom. She wore a pink hat and carried a basket of complimentary flowers.

Mr. Gordon Muir, brother in law of the groom acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Christian Education centre where the bride's mother received, wearing a long blue printed chiffon dress, she was assisted by the groom's mother in a long printed black and white gown. Both mothers wore a white gardenia.

A white orchid corsage highlighted the brides selection for going away, a brown polyester knit dress trimmed with orange and white braid.

For their honeymoon the happy couple chose a canoe trip in Algonquin park.

Out of town guests were from Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Guelph, Breslau, Fergus, Elora, Simcoe, Kitchener, Shakespeare and Peterborough.

Prior to her marriage Dorothy had been given a lovely miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Cecil Irwin and Mrs. Norman Brown, also one by the groom's sister, Mrs. Pat Muir, at the home of her grandmother Mrs. Lindsay McCord in Guelph.

Dorothy and Bill plan to live in Tillsonburg.

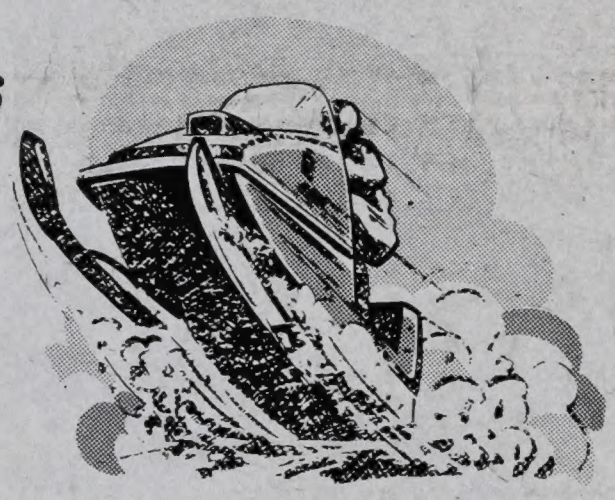
Along the trails

by Roy Bates



The Kennisis Lake Snowmobile Association came into being at a meeting September 13th in the Community Building at the Kennisis Lake Shopping Centre. Earlier meetings of concerned individuals had established a slate of Club Directors with Mr. Doug Day proposed for President.

Mr. Day gave an excellent presentation of the Club's aspirations, namely to develop several miles of off-road trails some little distance back from the lake to avoid the use of plowed roads and their attendent hazards. The trails will connect into the unplowed portions of tourist access roads providing some thirty miles of danger-free riding area. The entire system would then be groomed throughout the winter or at least during the period of fourteen weeks (average winter) when the lake is unsafe to ride.

A used Alpine snowmobile and drag have been purchased already. This was done through donations from interested members. Mr. Day and his associates had worked out the projected costs for a season of operation and proposed a membership fee which would recover those costs from seventy-five members. A show of hands among thirty-odd families represented at the meeting indicated full approval.

We wish this new club every success.

Having received no word from the Ontario Government regarding trail project funding for the coming season, the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association submitted an application for assistance under the Local Initiatives Program. The project, if approved, would provide employment for eleven persons over a twenty-one week period, November through March. The concept of the plan is to further develop and maintain the many miles of trails left untouched in last winter's program. This would include the many portages on lake trails throughout the county, providing at the same time new and improved routes for canoe enthusiasts. And, for the first time, the Association is giving consideration to cross-country skiers with trails proposed for the rapidly growing sport.

The long-range effect of the project would be a substantial increase in the volume of winter tourism in the county and an inducement for more tourist operators to lay out the welcome mat. Cooks, waitresses, handymen and other workers would come off the unemployed lists.

I was called from my typewriter to the phone to be informed that three million dollars worth of LIP applications were submitted from the Victoria-Haliburton region. This is more than ten times the allocated funds. Is it to be the third out for the HCSA? Or do we connect this time for a homerun? In any case it is only the first inning.

And the HCSA is not putting its eggs all in one basket. The Government of Ontario has not said "No". The Ontario Trails Council is set up and holding meetings. The snowmobiler is ably represented on the council in the person of Bev Jobbins, OFSC Director. Some proposals are sure to be announced soon. Also, a feeler is going out to the Wintario Fund.

It would help a lot if all of the region's snowmobilers and all businesses in the county would stand solidly behind the Association's effort. Last year's membership roster shows that forty percent of members were outsiders, leaving barely ten per cent of the snowmobiling families in the county represented. Surely we can do better than that.

HCSA membership is open to anyone. There is no screening process. We will accept you as an individual or as a family. Membership is ten dollars either way. For family membership simply list the first name of your spouse. We'd like to know the number of riders in the family and the number of machines. We'd also like to know what snowmobiling activities you enjoy most and, if a cottager, the location of your cottage. Mail your cheque or money order to Box 151, Haliburton, Ont. KOM 1S0. Thanks.

HCSA General Meeting and Election scheduled for Sunday, October 12th, in Haliburton Village. See next week's paper for further details.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I'd like to take time out from a busy schedule to offer my comments on the recent provincial election.

Firstly, may I express my heart-felt congratulations to the victorious candidate, Mr. John Eakins. I have long been a spectator on the sidelines, witnessing several hard working politicians, Mr. Eakins included, go down to defeat at the discretion of the voters. Finally, persistence and diligent work has been rewarded.

The other candidates, former incumbent Glen Hodgson, Mr. Fred McLaughlin and Mr. Harry Hughes, proved to be worthy opponents, for the most part. Thanks to these people, the campaign was a hard-fought battle of wits.

I was extremely pleased with the election results province-wide. They indicate some discontent among the voters. Certainly, the political scene will be an exciting one to follow-up on in the months to come.

In closing, I would like to express my confidence in the ability of our new M.P.P., Mr. John Eakins.

Sincerely yours,
Miss M. Jean Cooper
Student, R.P.I.

British Empire Motor Club

Held Corduroy Enduro

For the twenty fifth time, Haliburton County and surrounding municipalities was beseiged by motorcycles. The British Empire Motor Club held the Corduroy Enduro on the weekend of September 6 and 7th. Saturdays route covered 178 miles of logging trails, beaver swamps, back roads and some pavement. Sunday's route was of similar mileage but using different swamps, logging roads and trails.

The object of the test is to complete the route both days with the least amount of points lost. The motorcycles must not exceed a pre-determined noise level (88db) They must arrive at the starting line each morning with engine off. When their selected minute to leave comes up, the riders have 60 seconds to start the engine, unassisted, by the means available, usually the kick-starter. (one particular brand - the Rokon - uses a snowmobile motor and therefore has a pull rope). - should the motorcycle not cross the line under its own power within the minute; the contestant is penalized 20 enduro points. After passing through approximately 12 checkpoints (and 2 or 3 route checks). Each day and having travelled 360 miles, he then must climb a hill as fast as possible. This year the organizers chose the hill in Haliburton, many of the local citizenery lined the hill or watched from the bottom. The purpose of the special tests, of which the hill is one, is to break tie scores between the riders.

The overall winner, that is, the rider who collected the least number of enduro points (in this case - zero) and had the fastest time in all the special tests was Tom Denton who is from Lorain, Ohio, one of United States' top riders and rides a motorcycle which bears the name of his father John Denton a previous winner of several corduroy enduros.*

The Headquarters again this year was Deer Lodge. All competitors, helpers, and their families agreed with Ron Jackson, Chief Organizer of the event when he called for a round of applause for John and Marilyn Telgor at the Trophy presentation Sunday Night.

*There are many classifications. These are determined by engine size, rider's experience, age and sex. There are also trophies for the best team of taree riders entered. In all approximately 36 were presented.

Haliburton Highlands Guild

Directors meeting

The Board of Directors of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts held their September Meeting at the Lakeview Centre on Tuesday, September 9th.

The past year has been very successful with workshops, Group Meetings, Summer Theatre, Pottery and Weaving Classes. A lot of local people in the Highlands became involved for the first time, which is one of the aims of the Guild.

The summer Exhibition held in July in the Haliburton Senior Elementary School was once again very successful.

The county wide childrens art winning entries were displayed and most of the children took advantage of the scholarships to attend a course of their choice at the Summer School of Fine Arts.

A new calendar of events sponsored by the Guild and the School of Fine Arts has been drawn up and will be sent to all Guild members, this will also be published in the Minden and Haliburton papers.

These activities will include pottery, rug hooking, dried flower arrangements, weaving, quilting, macrame, upholstery, highland dancing basic law, small engines, childrens fun activities and the usual exhibitions and sales, Pre-Christmas, Winter Carnivals and Summer Exhibition.

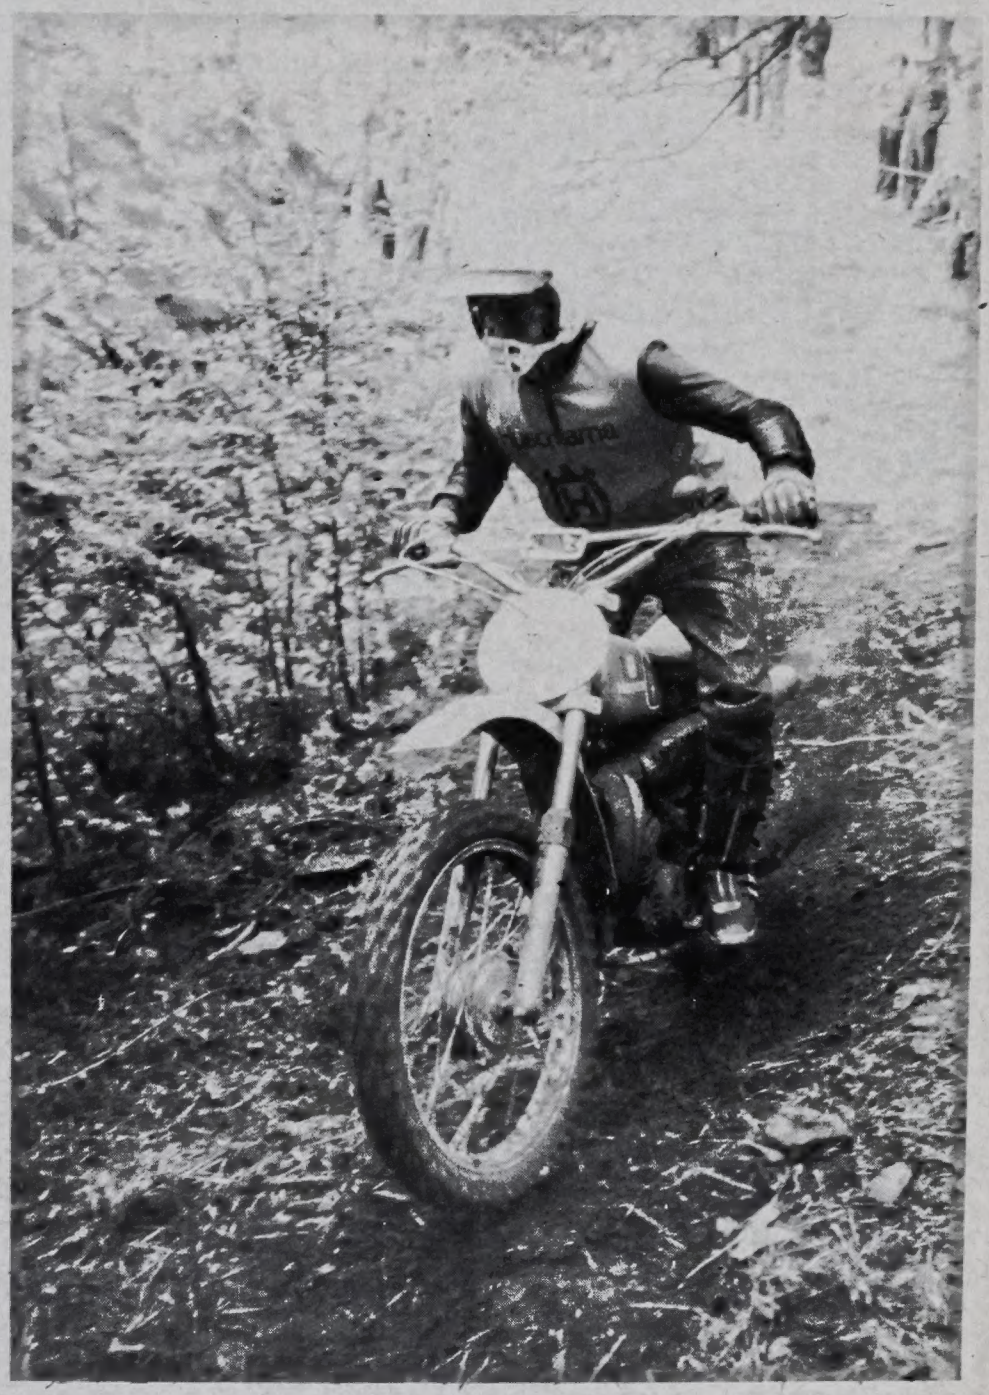
If you would be interested in seeing a group in action, pottery, weaving or whatever, call 457-1680 and our secretary will be happy to arrange for you to do so.

Health department to set ground meat standard

Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde has announced proposed mandatory microbial standards for ground meat which, when enacted, will provide assurance to Canadians that the ground meat they buy is safe from harmful microbial contamination.

When the standards are enacted into regulations, Canada will become one of the first countries to have mandatory national standards for microbiological quality of ground meat, Mr. Lalonde said.

The Health and Welfare Minister stressed the fact that the levels suggested for ground beef have deliberately been set to give a considerable margin of safety.



Pic of the past

Many of the old timers who read the Echo should be able to point out the men in this picture who are shown at a lumber camp near Minden in the year 1910. Our thanks goes out to Mary Schultz of 524 Vanuble Rd. in St. Catharines for submitting this photo. Mrs. Schultz informs us that one of the men in the picture is her grandfather Joseph Hughes late of Minden who died at the age of 66. Her mother Maude, later Mrs. John Moore and then Mrs. C.P. Rogers was 11 at the time.

The way out west

Bill Smiley

JUST a few more notes on my trip to Saskatchewan. If you are bored, turn to the classified ads.

That's not just a wisecrack. A western publisher who runs my column, said: "You're right up there with the classifieds, when it comes to readers."

"Thanks a lot," I muttered rather dourly. Turns out it was a compliment. The classified ads are the best-read part of many weeklies.

Anyway, perhaps the nicest thing I can say about Saskatchewan is that I'd love to go back, 30 years younger, and with two or three months to spend.

After I got home, I discovered I have a horde of cousins in Saskatoon, and they're going to be sore as hell when they learn I was there for a few days and didn't call them.

But that's my problem, and maybe I'll see some of them at the great Thomson family reunion at the "old homestead" on Calumet Island in the middle of the Ottawa River next month.

It's easier to get from here to England than it is to get from here to Calumet Island, but I'm going to bust a gut trying to make it. My grandfather was slidemaster there in the great days of lumbering on the Ottawa, and most of my western kinfolk sprang, originally, from his stalwart loins.

Speaking of loins, I didn't see any in Saskatchewan. But I did see a bald-headed eagle, as well as a few bald-headed editors.

Either it was a bald eagle, or a dirty great crow who had just had his hair dyed blonde. As far as I'm concerned, it was an eagle, just as that pike I caught not weighs just under 16 pounds.

And those western crows! I spotted a vast black bird skimming through the spruce. "What in the name of dear Heaven is that?" I enquired. "Crow," muttered our laconic guide, Ovide, rather contemptuously.

Later I learned that these "crows," which look about the size of a Canada goose, are really ravens, about three times the size of a common, or eastern crow.

I also heard some wolves, but they turned out to be young Indians, and the wolf calls were directed at pretty young Indians of the opposite sex.

Ovide, the guide, didn't, I am sure, realize that he was named after a famous Roman poet of erotic verse, but he had some of the characteristics. "Caught a real big fish last night," he averred, straight-faced, outlining with his hands the shape of the fish, which was more of a bird than a fish, to my thinking.

Let's see, what other great adventures did I have? Oh, yes. I met a prairie farmer, in his seventies, who was up for the fishing. German background, solid type, figured to be a gentle man, and he had the most appalling string of profanity I've heard since I left the air force.

Did you ever see a law student try to change a flat tire on a big bus? Nice lad. Had been in the Mounties, couldn't stand the crap of the upper echelons, who are still in the Victorian age, had quit, was going through law school, and then was going back into the Mounties, to try to do something about it. Stout chap and I hope he makes it. But he sure had a battle with that tire, while we stood on the road and watched the perfect Vs of geese starting their long trek south.

Away up there in the northern wilds, where the call of loons and the snort of a moose are to be expected, I was startled. Went to a lodge with the rest of the gang and wound up playing shuffleboard and shooting pool with a great fire in the fireplace. I felt sort of disconnected.

It ain't cheap up there. Brought a rate card home with me. A modern cabin runs $120 a week. Boat, about $50 a week. Motor, about $60 a week. Plus gas, bait, fish filleting, fish freezing, and food. A fishing guide is about $20 a day, but worth it. I had all this for zilch money, thanks to the government of Sask. and my good hosts, the Martins.

But on the other hand, it's not really expensive, if shared by a group. That cabin held eight people, or could have, and was completely furnished and heated. A crumby cottage in Ontario, on an over-crowded beach, with no fishing, could cost as much or more.

Back to Saskatoon after a 10-hour bus-ride, and everybody exhausted. Some of those crazy, intrepid westerners took off for home. "Oh, it's only 280 miles."

Got wangled into a lobster dinner, when all I wanted was bed and a warm glass of milk. Ordering lobster in Saskatoon is like going to Halifax and saying: "Bring me a big western steak." Stupid.

Missed my flight home. Called the old Trouble 'n Strife, who was expecting me that night, 1,200 miles away. Cost me $13. Woke up in the morning with a heavy chest cold and a feverish feeling that I'd been off to another planet for a week.

But I wouldn't have missed it for the world. It's not every day you see a bald-headed eagle.

Hockey for Minors

The Kick Save

Those sneaky shots which skim along the ice through a forest of legs and sticks are the most dangerous for a goalie.

The kick, or skate save, looks so easy it seems almost routine, but think about the dangers. Your skate blade is only a few inches long. The puck will be spinning like a top, increasing the chance it will glance off your skate at a crazy angle. You must have that few inches of steel at the exact angle it will deflect the puck away from the goal line.

Too large an angle can mean the puck will glance off into the net. Too small an angle will cause the puck to bounce out in front — too far to reach with your stick. Chances are there'll be an opponent right there ready to bang it home. You've given away a rebound second chance.

Concentrate on deflecting surface shots to the side of the net. Don't just stop the shot dead, chancing that fatal rebound. Get that puck to the side so you can take a breath and get set again.

Minden area escapes deer season cutback

Declining deer populations in the Algonquin Region have necessitated changes in the deer seasons to limit the deer harvest and re establish the population base at a higher level. This includes the Districts of Parry Sound, Bracebridge, Minden, Bancroft and Pembroke.

Although curtailing the season will create hardships to some hunters who have already made plans and arrangements and will reduce opportunities for this recreational sport the present level of the deer herds dictated interim and immediate action.

This year only the Muskoka area and Renfrew County will have shortened seasons. However, further restrictions may be required in the rest of the Region in 1976. When management projects beneficially alter the ecological conditions and deer populations increase then more liberal seasons will again be opened.

In Renfrew County the season will be open from November 3 to November 8 inclusive. This is a reduction of one week from the originally scheduled and published season.

The Municipality of Muskoka and the Township of Cowper, Foley, Conger, and Humphrey in the Parry Sound District will be open from November 3 to November 5, 1975, inclusive.

There is no open season east of the C.N.R. in Medora and Wood Townships in Muskoka Municipality.

In the remainder of the Algonquin Region the season is from November 3 to November 15 inclusive.

DEER SEASON

In the remainder of the Algonquin Regions the season is from November 3 to November 15th inclusive.

It won't be to long now before the Drag River Bridge in Haliburton will be dismantled to make way for a new modern structure. This present bridge was erected in 1912 by the Council of Dysart. When this old bridge was constructed the Reeve at that time was William Laking and the Councillors were William Roberts, Henry Brohm, John A. Lucas and Daniel Gorrie, George H. Potts was the Clerk.

Most drivers know the rule for judging what is a safe distance to follow another car in traffic -- "Allow one car length for every 10 m.p.h. of speed." But, the Ontario Safety League emphasizes that this rule specifies the minimum safe following distance, under perfect conditions. In bad driving conditions, such as rain or ice, the distance allowance should be doubled. A "bad condition" calling for extra stopping distance from the car ahead, arises whenever you yourself are being followed too closely by another vehicle. If an emergency occurs ahead, you have to worry about the stopping capability of your own car and also the car behind.

"It hurts to be a loser" - Hodgson

LINDSAY - It was a sullen and subdued group of Tories who watched in disbelief as the Liberals captured the ancestral home of the PC's and revered former provincial leader Leslie Frost, in Victoria - Haliburton last Thursday night.

Glen Hodgson, successor to Frost and fighting for his fourth consecutive term bowed out but vowed he would be back to fight another day.

"A war has many battles," said Hodgson, standing atop a desk trying to console his downcast troops.

"The voters will now have a chance to compare," he said.

"I'm expecting to get my free false teeth since the Liberals promised a dental plan and my free OHIP."

Mr. Hodgson told his followers a minority government for the province at this time of crisis will be weak and unable to deal with Ottawa.

"For the first time in 32 years there isn't a majority government in this province," he said.

The defeated incumbent told his supporters to support good sound legislation that is just and good for the province.

"Remember this; John Eakins has a difficult task and I pledged to give him my assistance and I intend to keep that pledge."

"However, that doesn't mean we don't be PC's," he said.

Mr. Hodgson admonished his workers saying the party didn't "really sell" their programs to the public.

"Make no mistake," Hodgson said, "It hurts to be a loser."

The defeated candidate told his supporters the riding association needs to be reorganized and the battle for the next election started immediately.

"We didn't get out all of our vote. We're going to do it next time with organization."

Mr. Hodgson said party workers who knew of weaknesses in the organization should write their complaints and criticisms on paper for the riding executive to deal with.

"The NDP slogan was Tomorrow starts today. Well our tomorrow starts now, we're going to be back in charge of things in Victoria-Haliburton."

The first polls foreshadowed the room facing Mr. Hodgson and although at times he narrowed the Liberal lead he could not make headway.

"The gap is narrowing, but we're running out of polls," one party supporter commented gloomily.

As the evening wore on, even poll wins did little to dispel the desperate atmosphere in the committee room. Shirley Hodgson, the candidate's wife, consoled her husband after his defeat became apparent, and said to a friend that she would have her husband back, for at least a year.

Mr. Hodgson said he thought there were many reasons for his personal defeat and the reduction of the PC majority.

He said people did not believe the Conservatives were telling the truth about regional government. He said aspects of PC policy "small matters" like environmental controls and land use policies irritated people.

Mr. Hodgson said he considers it very unfortunate for Canada that Ontario, the industrial heartland, has been left with a weak government, too weak, he said, to deal with the economic crisis the future holds.

McLaughlin predicts election in 1976

LINDSAY - Victoria-Haliburton NDP candidate Fred McLaughlin had to settle for a third place finish behind his Liberal and Conservative opponents in the riding, but feels that within a year the electorate will be back at the polls.

The Markham History Teacher and R.R. 1, Janetville resident kept his spirits high, even though he brought in 3,718 votes, while hoping for 6,000 and a solid base to work on for the next election.

It was 10:30 p.m. when the NDP troops made their way to the nearby Liberal committee rooms and conceded defeat. McLaughlin stepped through the door just moments before defeated incumbent Conservative Glen Hodgson arrived.

The New Democratic Party candidate told a Liberal crowd that he was sorry that what happened in the province didn't happen in Victoria-Haliburton riding.

He drew a laugh from the jubilant Liberals when he said that he is sure John Eakins will give his heart and soul to the job, and if he doesn't I'm always around.

He said people are scared because there has been a collapse in Ottawa and that a 30 per cent increase in the cost of living has been predicted over the next three years. "What's a fellow to do to keep up with costs?" he asked.

Some felt in the Conservative quarters that McLaughlin proved to be the spoiler for ousted Glen Hodgson.

PC stalwarts long service recognized

Progressive Conservative party stalwarts in this riding were recognized for their long record of service to the political organization at the Premier Davis' rally last Wednesday night in Lindsay.

Presentations of framed, autographed pictures of Premier William G. Davis were presented to the honoured group by riding federal member William C. Scott and R. Glen Hodgson, provincial member.

Receiving the recognitions of service were: John Kelsey, Woodville; Russell MacGillivray, Bolsover; Robert Bradt, Bobcaygeon; Oliver McInnes, Kirkfield; Victor Knox, R.R. 3 Fenelon Falls; John D. McMillan, Township of Eldon, Charles Hodgson, Burnt River; Percy Tighe, Wilberforce; John A. Robertson, Lindsay; Genevieve Parkin, Lindsay; Byron Hyland, Omemee; Lawrence Pritchard, Minden; Arthur Locke, Dorset; John Jenkins, Little Britain; A.B. Sissons, Manvers and Stan Cooper, West Guilford.

Heavy vote in our riding

In the Ontario Provincial election of September 18th there were 34,855 eligible voters in the Victoria-Haliburton riding. The polls totalled 154.

When one considers that 25,255 people voted we must say that it was a good turnout at the polls in spite of the inclement weather.

Incidentally the number of eligible voters given above does not include those who for one reason or another were left off the voters list but were eligible to vote and could be vouched for and sworn in at the polling stations.

Adequate insulation can usually reduce the size of installed heating and cooling equipment and provides a saving of up to 30 per cent on the yearly operating cost.

Haliburton County Board honours teachers

Mrs. Greta Kellett (left) of the Victoria Street School staff and Miss Joyce Williams (right) of the secondary school staff are shown accepting gifts of bookends. The Board held a special dinner to honour these teachers at the Fireside Restaurant, Minden, in June of this year. Everyone present were grateful for the dedication and service these two people have provided to the children of Haliburton County and extended best wishes for a happy retirement.

Wintario Lottery makes improvements

Toronto, September 10, 1975 .. Improvements to the Wintario Lottery including the selection of more winning ticket numbers, prizes and province-wide live television coverage of draws, were announced today by Harvey McCulloch, Q.C. Chairman of the Board of the Ontario Lottery Corporation.

Beginning with the October 2nd draw, four winning numbers will be selected to determine first, second, third and fourth grand prizes of $100,000., $50,000., $25,000. and $25,000. respectively. Formerly only one number was drawn.

In addition there will be four times as many other prizes awarded in the expanded Wintario game. Series prize denominations are $10,000., $1,000. $500. $100. and $25.

Citing an example, Managing Director of the Lottery Corporation, Marshall Pollock, Q.C. said, "In a lottery where 36 series are issued, there will now be 12,960 winning tickets as opposed to 3,240 in a similar draw in the original.

This means there will be four times as many chances to win a prize and tickets still cost $1.00 each. Tickets go on sale on September 19th.

Also starting October 2nd, each Wintario draw will be televised live every other Thursday night at 10:30 p.m. from the Ontario community in which it is held.

Regular host of the 30 minute program will be Fred Davis, who hosted the first Wintario draw televised in May. The program is produced by Global Television Network, which will carry the program to Southern Ontario. Other parts of the province will be served by selected CBC and CTV affiliate stations.

On Tuesday afternoon at about 2:30 p.m. Bernard Bain of West Guilford was fishing with Keith Brannigan of Haliburton near the caboose and Bernard caught a large mouth bass that weighed in at 6 lbs. 5 ounces. It was 21 inches in length and 15 inches around the girth.

Where's the fire?

If there's a fire in your town, you'd want a full report on it, wouldn't you? And, when it comes to reporting fires and other local happenings, most people turn to their local newspaper for the news.

Your local newspaper's prime function is to present the news—with strong emphasis on local news.

That's why eight out of ten adults read a newspaper every day. No other news source can match local newspapers for speedy, thorough saturation of a community.

Local newspapers deliver massive coverage to people of all ages. 80% of all men and women read a newspaper every week. And the figures are almost as high for teen-agers—7 out of 10 (ages 12-20) read a newspaper every week.

Where's the fire? Who's the proud new parents? Who got married? All of these, and more, are reported in your local newspaper every week. And who wants to know? You do—with a full report.

Newspapers deliver the local story.

Naturalist claim new ban on soft drink containers is "tokenism"

The Federation of Ontario Naturalists today claimed that Environment Minister William Newman's announced ban on new soft drink containers is "tokenism".

Mr. Newman said Thursday that the Ministry will prepare regulations to ban the all-aluminum can, a new plastic container being developed in the USA and one-way bottles larger than 1.5 litres. None of these are in significant use in Ontario yet, and the measures are being taken to restrict their spread.

Don't misinterpret us. "We are indeed supportive of such preventive action", said Gordon MacKenzie, FON President. "If the government had, had the foresight to take similar measures against non-refillables 5 years ago, we wouldn't have the problem today".

"But", says MacKenzie, "we are disappointed that the present ban is purely cosmetic, hiding the fact that decisive actions are not taken".

The Federation explains that the Minister delivered an ultimatum to the softdrink industry at a March meeting. At that time Mr. Newman stated that "if you (the industries) have not visibly demonstrated your willingness to co-operate in restoring the refillable bottle within six months, and if you do not show substantial progress within twelve months, appropriate action will be taken."

At a following press conference, Mr. Newman warned that action must be forthcoming in six month or he would not wait a year before taking his own measures. He indicated legislation.

"Mr. Newman's review board", say MacKenzie, "has now reported, and it has categorically shown inaction by the industry. Even the Minister says that the response is inadequate".

"But now the Minister says that he'll wait the full year to see what sort of compliance he'll get. We expect that it will be more of the same."

"He's backing away. Mr. Newman said that he would take action if there wasn't compliance in 6 months. And now he says that he'll give them a year. I consider that stalling."

The Federation has challenged the Ministry "to show real courage by getting that legislation to Queen's Park as soon as the House meets."

Leslie Frost Resources Centre

Played host to professional groups

On Tuesday September 9th, the Leslie M. Frost Resources Centre at Dorset played host to outdoor, teacher, cottage and professional groups. The morning was spent giving everyone an overall picture of the general programme with detailed information in specific areas.

The present programme of the centre naturally revolves around outdoor activities namely:- wildlife including fishing, forest management, pollution, camping and canoeing. Forest management, as an example of what is being done, includes timber felling, measurement and chainsaw use, sawmill operations, maple syrup production, tree identification, trapping and recreation. The purpose of this activity is to explain the various ways in which a forest is able to cater to the requirements of all segments of the community.

Groups of children and adults can reserve accommodation at the centre for a few days and absorb forestry knowledge and hopefully develop an appreciation of nature's bounty. Charges are moderate. The accommodation and food are excellent.

The purpose of the day was to obtain suggestions from the participating groups as to ways in which the programme could be expanded. Our own suggestions concerned cluster development. As you may know two such developments are struggling to get air-borne in the Highlands. Sir Sandford Fleming agreed to provide students to do basic research work, and possible money too, in order that guidelines respecting such developments could be determined.

At the end of the day the concensus was that much had been accomplished, and George Hamilton, the Chief, looked satisfied.

I am sure that any group which samples the programme at the centre will feel amply rewarded.

Car tax rebate program modified for the disabled

The Government is aware that some disabled Ontario Residents are unable to benefit from new car tax rebates because the vehicles they need are not covered by the program. Consequently, Cabinet has agreed in principle to provide retail sales tax rebates to individuals purchasing such vehicles, thereby making the new car tax rebate program more equitable.

In recognition of the special nature of these cases, the Ministry of Revenue will consider individual applications for rebates by disabled persons who find it necessary to purchase vehicles not otherwise covered by the rebate program.

Individual applications should be made directly to the Ministry of Revenue at the following address:

A Special Meeting of County Council of the Provisional County of Haliburton was called by the Warden and convened in the Council Chambers on Tuesday, July 15, 1975, at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of considering the County Restructure Study Prospectus and for other impending County business.

Members in attendance were: Reginald Booth - Warden, D. Pritchard, J.M. Howarth, M. McGillivray, M. Peters, M. Fearrey, L. Coneybeare, R. Fotheringham, N. Locke, P. Conaghan, L. Walker, D. Russell, A. Baum, R. Vick, R. Graham, S.G. Nesbitt, J. Harrison.

Visitors in attendance were: Study Commissioner Bob Galloway, P.Eng., and David Martin, Representative from the Ministry of Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs.

The meeting was called to order by Warden Reginald Booth, who called on Local Government Study Committee Chairman Murray Fearrey to outline minutes of the preceding meeting of the Local Government Study Committee, copies of which had been circulated, and present a progress report.

Copies of the proposed prospectus on the County Restructuring Study were given to each member, and Commissioner Bob Galloway reviewed the prospectus in detail. Ministry Representative David Martin confirmed the situation whereby the study was to be carried out by the County, with financial assistance from the Province and technical assistance whenever requested. This study will document information on administration within the County for review by County Council. Procedures on the study were discussed openly by members of Council.

Resolution No. 89/75: That County Council of the Provisional County of Haliburton approve the Prospectus of the Government Restructuring the Study as presented by W. Robert Galloway, Commissioner, this 15th day of July, 1975. Carried by a majority of Councillors.

The Prospectus will now be submitted to the Minister for Provincial approval.

County Engineer - Chairman of the Road Committee, S.G. Nesbitt, introduced William Obee, P.Eng., appointed as County Engineer effective July 14, 1975. Mr. Nesbitt explained to Council that the position of County Engineer must also be designated as Road Superintendent to comply with The Public Transportation and Highway Improvement Act.

Resolution No. 90/75: - That By-law 956, having been read a first time, be considered read a Second and Third time, passed, signed, and the Corporate Seal attached, being a by-law to appoint a County Engineer and Road Superintendent for the Provisional County of Haliburton. Carried.

Reeve of Lutterworth, P. Conaghan, congratulated the Road Committee Chairman for the excellent job done on Road #2, Deep Bay.

It was confirmed to County Council following investigations that the length of the Hunting Season would not be changed in 1975.

Resolution No. 91/75 - Be it resolved that we adjourn. This Special Meeting of County Council was adjourned at 8:30 p.m.

County Council of the Provisional County of Haliburton met for the regular September meeting in the Council Chambers on Wednesday, September 17, 1975, at 10:00 a.m. with all nineteen members in attendance.

Warden Reginald Booth declared the meeting open for business, and introduced Minden Progress reporter, Mrs. Donna Madill.

Resolution No. 92 - That the Minutes of the Regular Meeting of June 18, 1975, and the Special Meeting of July 15, 1975, be approved as circulated. Carried.

Chairman of Finance, Jerry M. Howarth, reported all accounts had been scrutinized at the preceding Finance Meeting and were found to be in order. He also commented on the Budget Comparison Statement which had been circulated to all members.

Resolution No. 93 - That we approve payment of cheques numbered 298 to 477 inclusive in the amount of $107,028.57. Carried.

Mr. R. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P. was in attendance to discuss problems encountered with the Restructure Study, and in consideration of demands on Mr. Hodgson's time, Warden Booth advanced on the agenda the report of the Local Government Study Committee given by Chairman Murray Fearrey.

Mr. Fearrey told Council no reply had been received from the Hon. Darcy McKeough relative to a motion passed at a recent Local Government Study Committee that the quality of a study produced for less than the revised quotation by Commissioner Robert Galloway would not be acceptable.

Mr. Hodgson recommended a meeting with Mr. McKeough to resolve the problem, and offered to make such arrangements if the Committee wished to notify his office. He referred to the complexity of a study for this County because of the desire for total involvement with seasonal residents and also because of the large acreage of Crown Land.

Minister trying to scuttle Parks Policy

The Federation of Ontario Naturalists today accused Natural Resources Minister Leo Bernier of trying to scuttle National Parks Policy, said to be the most progressive park policy in Canada.

The accusation followed an exchange between the FON and Bernier concerning duck hunting at Point Pelee National Park, located near the western end of Lake Erie.

The duck shooting at Point Pelee is the only recreational hunting permitted in any National Park, and is contrary to National Parks Policy. The activity has continued since the park was founded, but has been hotly debated since 1946.

According to FON president Gordon MacKenzie, "there have been a series of statements and promises the length of your arm, all indicating termination of duck hunting. But every time, nothing happens."

A copy of the Federation's latest resolution, calling for an end to the violation, was sent to Ontario Resources Minister Leo Bernier. Although technically a federal matter, the province is known to have taken an influential position in the past.

"Mr. Bernier's response", says MacKenzie, "is little short of an attempt to scuttle National Parks Policy".

"First the Minister says that the Ontario Government wants duck hunting continued, despite the fact that it contravenes policy."

"And secondly, Mr. Bernier has the collosal nerve to say that should these activities be curtailed by the Federal Government, the Ontario Government would require Ottawa to provide suitable alternative hunting facilities."

MacKenzie is annoyed by the Minister's refusal to acknowledge "both that hunting has no place in national parks, and that park policy should be uniformly applied."

"Here we have the best park policy in Canada, and the province is trying to tell Ottawa to ignore it."

"Can you imagine what would happen if every province pressed Ottawa to permit one or another nonconformity? The policy would be a shambles in no time."

But the aspect that irritated MacKenzie the most is a part of Bernier's letter, saying that the Federal should stop worrying about hunting in parks, and deal with the real problem - the loss of wetlands.

"It's so ludicrous a statement that one scarcely knows where to begin", says MacKenzie. "We have been after the provincial government for years to afford real protection to wetlands, but with few concerted results.

"And now, as the Minister is saying this, he is also ordering his staff to approve developments dooming Oshawa Second Marsh. To make it truly ridiculous, Cabinet has already approved acquisition of the land which Mr. Bernier is now allowing to be destroyed."

Mouthguard project

A Health Unit Dental Service to individually fit High School students with a custom-made, internally worn mouthguard - comfortable to wear, does not restrict breathing and allows normal speech.

Students will be fitted at the MOUTHGUARD CLINIC coming to their school.

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on September 25, 1975 at 1:00 p.m.

Students pay only for the cost of materials - $4.00. Students must bring their $4.00 no later than the day of the clinic. Make cheques payable to "Dr. Warrick - Mouthguard Project."

A guard of this type will prevent 95 per cent of tooth and jaw injuries in contact sports - not just football and hockey. Dental injuries also occur in baseball, basketball, floor and field hockey, gymnastics, soccer, wrestling, lacrosse, rugger and figure skating.

During the past three years 5,000 students have taken advantage of this project.

Co-ordinated by Dr. D.A. Warrick, Director of Dental Services, Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit, Box 337, Cobourg, Ontario K9A 4K8, 372-3375.

With the support and approval of The Victoria Board of Education, and The Haliburton Board of Education.

Learning Materials Development Plan

Education Minister Thomas Wells announced last week the establishment of the Learning Materials Development Plan.

The plan provides up to $750,000 for the development and production of Canadian learning materials especially in subject areas where the demand is too small to make normal commercial development attractive.

Mr. Wells said submissions for the development and production of such materials are invited from companies, non-profit organizations and individuals. All submissions will be considered by an independent advisory committee which will make recommendations to the Minister.

Details of the program will be mailed to publishers, producers, educational institutions and schools.

General meeting of Chamber of Commerce

Everyone is invited to attend the General Meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce which will take place at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School in Haliburton on Wednesday evening, October 1st, starting at 8:00 p.m.

This is your opportunity to come out and air your beefs or constructive criticism and in general join in the discussions.

Topics that will be discussed will be Getting Haliburton back on the Map, Promotional Campaign for 1976, The Lure Book 1976 edition, information booths and The Development of Industry in Haliburton County.

This will be the night for the election of directors and a guest speaker will be on hand for the occasion. Coffee and Donuts will be served.

It's all important that as many as possible should turn out for this all important meeting.

Well the Tourist season may be just about over for most of us, and for some it was apparently not one of their better years, but not for Elephant Lake Lodge. We dropped in on them last week and they were FULL. Bernie Waterton, the proprietor, tells us this is the best season he's had yet. Maybe we can talk Bernie into coming to the annual meeting and telling us his secret.

Mr. Bill Elliot, Managing Director of the Eastern Ontario Travel Association, has agreed to let us in on some of his secrets. Mr. Elliot will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce. He has operated some extremely successful programmes and we are sure we can benefit a great deal from his experience.

We have two new business operations to welcome into the county this week. Mr. and Mrs. Roland Letourneau have just opened Skyline Automotive Supply in Haliburton next door to the Legion Hall. They hail from Georgetown, Ontario, and now make their home at Eagle Lake. Wayne and Lee Wilcox have just opened the Hyland Restaurant on Highway 648 just west of Wilberforce. Wayne's mother owns the Park Cottages in Wilberforce, and his wife Lee is a native of Sault Ste. Marie. We take pleasure in welcoming these nice people to the community, and certainly hope they prosper in their respective business operations.

If you haven't been out around Wilberforce lately, take a drive and see what this active community has been up to. The hockey rink has had a face lifting, they have a new community centre and playground, and are just finishing a new curling rink. They are to be congratulated on their active community spirit.

Don't forget the annual meeting, October 1st, Haliburton Highlands Secondary School at 8:00 p.m. If you are not yet a member come to the meeting anyway - maybe it will help you make up your mind.

Poetry competition offers $1500 prize

A $1500 grand prize will be awarded in the current Poetry Competition sponsored by the World of Poetry, a monthly newsletter for poets.

Poems of all styles and on any subject are eligible to compete for the grand prize or for 49 other cash or merchandise awards. Second place is $500.

According to contest director, Joseph Mellon, "We are encouraging poetic talent of every kind, and expect our contest to produce exciting discoveries."

Rules and official entry forms are available by writing to: World of Poetry, 801 Portola Dr., Dept. 211, San Francisco CA 94127.

Contest closes November 30, 1975.

Haliburton Playtime to start fall program

Haliburton Playtime will soon be starting its Fall Program.

This program is available to all pre-schoolers who will be 3 years of age by the end of December.

Playtime provides an excellent opportunity for children to learn co-operative play in groups, to learn cooperation with their peers and with adults other than their mothers, and to participate in a variety of activities not always available in the home.

The program includes circle play and songs, a painting centre, organized craft activities and various other play centres.

Registration is at the Anglican Church in Haliburton at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 7. The program begins the same day.

Mothers are invited to register their child, watch our activities, and discuss their participation as all mothers are actively involved in the program.

The Committee for the 1975-76 season are Mrs. Robin Curry, President, Mrs. Sheila Finlay, Vice-President and Mrs. June Leworthy, Secretary-Treasurer.

If you wish any further information, please call one of the above.

WATERFOWL DAY

September 7th, the sun smiled warmly upon Darlington Provincial Park, the site of the 4th Annual Sportsman's Waterfowl Day. In excess of 5,000 people enjoyed educational displays of bullfrog jumping contests - food from the wilds to tournament competition in such waterfowling activities as dog trials, decoy carving, duck calling, shooting and waterfowl identification.

The biggest and best to date, this year's event was a splendid example of cooperation between the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters and the Ministry of Natural Resources. Many hours of planning and work by these parties culminated in a most successful well organized program.

The Grand Champion for this year's tournament competition was Earl Newhall from Orillia while Al Taylor, also of Orillia, nailed down second place.

For the first time this year, the National Duck Calling Championships were held at the Sportsman's Waterfowl Day. Al Taylor of Orillia placed first in this competition followed by Earl Newhall.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR PERCY SWANSON The many friends of well-known Lindsay District Fish and Wildlife Supervisor Percy Swanson will be pleased to know that he and his wife Julie were the guests of honour at a dinner-dance farewell party held recently at the Lindsay Golf and Country Club. They were honoured with presentations and well-wishes from some 130 friends and colleagues in attendance. Percy's retirement culminates twenty nine years of service with the Ministry of Natural Resources, twenty of which were in the Lindsay District.

GANARASKA FISHWAY
L.B. Males, Fish & Wildlife Technician.

Once again the Ganaraska fishway in Port Hope has been opened to enable the fall run of rainbow trout to ascent to their spawning grounds. This run is not expected to be as large as the spring run but those fish which do attempt travelling through the fish ladder will be carefully examined.

A scale sample, used to determine the age of the fish, length and weight will be taken from each trout and a disc tag affixed near the dorsal fin for later identification. All fish are also checked for sea lamprey scars and wounds and their sex and reproductive state are recorded.

For those persons fortunate enough to catch a tagged trout, we would appreciate you returning the tag to the Lindsay District Office of the Ministry of Natural Resources, 322 Kent Street West, K9V 2Z9. You will be provided with the pertinent information available on that fish.

The natural populations of rainbow trout in this area are primarily spring spawners but with the stocking program being carried out by this Ministry, different strains of rainbow have been introduced, giving the enthusiastic angler enjoyable and rewarding fishing both spring and fall.

CONES WANTED R.A. Lockhart, District Forest Supervisor.

Persons interested in picking cones, from which we extract the seed to enable us to maintain our planting programs, may obtain contracts by phoning the following Headquarters. Contracts are being issued, and depending upon the species collected, we are paying from $20.00 to $60.00 per hectoliter (approximately 2½ bushels). Picked cones will not be purchased unless you first have a contract.
Ganaraska Forest 416-797-2959 Northumberland Forest 416-349-2779.

Industrial capabilities to be computerized

A central computerized inventory of the industrial capabilities of Ontario-based manufacturers has been launched by the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism and the federal Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce.

Statistics required for the development of trade, industrial growth and financial incentive programs will be based on the information compiled by these company data profiles, Claude Bennett, Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism said.

By embarking on this program, the two government bodies are also seeking to reduce the number of questionnaires now being completed by industry. The statistical breakdown of Ontario companies' activities, products being manufactured and development interests for the future will be available to Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism offices in the province and its international offices in nine countries and six states in the U.S. It will also be circulated to the federal Industry, Trade and Commerce offices throughout the world.

Further use of the information will be made by Ontario for the distribution of marketing and manufacturing opportunities, import replacement, employment profiles and new business development, Mr. Bennett advised.

THE ANNUAL MUNICIPAL ENUMERATION IS UNDER WAY

The annual municipal enumeration began on Friday, September 19, 1975 and will continue this week. This municipal enumeration is separate and distinct from the recent provincial enumeration which was conducted for the provincial election. During the week, an enumerator, carrying a proper identification card, will call at your residence for a few minutes to check basic information required in determining:

- the allocation of education property taxes between the public and separate school systems;
- the distribution of provincial grants to local governments to help reduce local tax bills;
- the preparation of jurors' lists; and
- population information needed for other municipal programs.

The enumerator must record such information as the name, age, property status (e.g. owner or tenant), school support and residency of all members of the household.

When the enumerator visits, please check that the information on the Enumeration Notice is correct. If it is not, revise it and verify the changes.

If you are not home, a Notice will be left for you. If changes are necessary, please make them and mail the Enumeration Notice in the self addressed postage prepaid envelope accompanying the Notice. For any additional information, please contact the local assessment office.

Industry, Trade, Tourism thermostat up in 1974

TORONTO -- Despite a recessive economic climate towards the year end, Ontario's trade, industry and tourism thermostat was turned up fairly high during 1974.

Noting some highlights from the Ministry's annual Ontario Industry, Trade and Tourism Review, Claude Bennett, Minister, reports last year's Gross Provincial Product increased to $57 billion, representing a real growth over the previous year of about 4.2 per cent.

As a result of international inflation and increased oil prices, the implicit price index rose 13.1 per cent in 1974 compared with 7.6 per cent in 1973 - - the highest increase in a single year since the second world war.

On an optimistic note, the Minister reports employment rose faster than average during the year; 153,000 jobs were created. On the negative side, though, the unemployment rate remained about the same as 1973.

During the year, demand weakened in foreign markets for many of Ontario's exports and in major sectors of domestic expenditure such as outlays for new housing, automobiles and consumer durables. By contrast, demand for imported goods remained relatively strong. Ontario imports rose from $9.6 billion in 1973 to $11.3 billion in 1974, and increase of $1.7 billion or 17.7 per cent.

Realizing that Ontario's economic prosperity largely depends on how much it can market abroad, Mr. Bennett observes that 23 per cent of the province's 1974 GPP was exported. Ontario exports totalled $12.4 billion, a rise of 13 per cent in dollar terms over 1973 value.

During the 10-year period 1965 to 1974, Ontario exports have increased in value by 353 per cent and have significantly shifted composition. Primary commodities have declined in importance (from 29 per cent of the total in 1965 to 14 per cent in 1974) while manufactured goods have grown to represent over 60 per cent of the total.

INDUSTRY

For 1974, the report records 145 new major establishments entered secondary manufacturing in Ontario, resulting in 4,255 new employment opportunities. Their total investment of $100,644,880 in plants and equipment added 2,728,640 square feet to Ontario's manufacturing portfolio.

In addition, Mr. Bennett notes 161 established companies spent $103,831,329 last year adding 6.3 million square feet to existing facilities. Employment opportunities resulting from this growth activity alone gave jobs to 2,368 people.

Joint ventures negotiated during 1974, between Ontario industrialists and contacts in and outside the province, resulted in 16 completed arrangements to have products manufactured in Ontario via joint-equity companies.

Also, during last year, a total of 125 licensing agreements were reported by Ontario companies in pursuit of additional products and manufacturing diversification.

To encourage and support industrial development throughout the province, the Ministry held special training courses, conducted municipal industrial surveys, escorted product prospecting missions, sponsored manufacturing opportunity seminars and published a Manufacturing Opportunities Bulletin covering mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, licensing, inventions and sub-contracting arrangements.

Government and industry cooperation was stimulated during the year by numerous meetings arranged by the Ministry, between Mr. Bennett and industry and labour associations. From these meetings emerged the need for 12 in-depth major industry sector analyses which the Ministry has undertaken.

In 1974, for the first time in the Ministry's history, extensive counselling was provided for the service industries across the province. To this end, the Ministry retained specialists for the computer, film, industrial, transportation, consumer and institutional service employment fields.

TRADE

To augment a strong domestic-based economy, the Ministry's Division of Trade sponsored 37 trade missions last year with 263 participating members exchanging products and know how with 48 countries. The outcome benefitted Ontario by about $18,552,500.

To 'perk up' the Ontario manufacturing spirit, 1974 also saw the first presentation of the Ministry's Trillium awards for recognition of excellence in commercial acceptability of a product. The highly esteemed Eedee Award for excellence in product design was also given in 1974.

Helping small and medium-sized companies, Ministry marketing consultants held some 800 private discussion with company officials regarding their marketing plans for 1974.

Assistance was also given to firms seeking to expand their sales nationally via agents/distributors, licensing arrangements or joint ventures in other provinces. Advice was given to manufacturers regarding trade shows and exhibitions - show locations and dates, exhibit space, product display and freight forwarding.

In 1974, a total of 13 export training, modern marketing techniques, and commodity seminars were held across the province. And during the year, 2,341 people visited the Ministry's Trade and Travel Centre while some 60 groups held meetings there and displayed their Ontario-made products.

Throughout the year, the International Marketing Branch organized trade missions, arranged for incoming buyers from foreign countries, organized Ontario exhibits at international trade fairs and guided Ontario firms in licensing their products for manufacture abroad.

Ontario companies were represented at five international exhibitions in 1974. Some 44 companies displayed their products in exhibitions held in the United Kingdom, Germany and Italy. Estimated first year sales for participating firms was $2.7 million.

During 1974, the Trade Research Branch completed 22 foreign market studies, 18 short market and feasibility studies, 16 special trade research studies and compiled 220 various trade and statistical datum.

TOURISM

The Tourism Development sector saw a year of unparalleled activity during 1974 with Ontario's tourism revenue reaching $2.3 billion mark, an increase of 18.6 per cent over 1973.

As a result of the Minister touring the province, many tourism problems were aired at the ministerial level and action taken. A basic policy change was implemented and tourism received priority consideration for capital development and improvement.

Stemming from this, over $22 million in loans were made from the Development Corporations of Ontario to the tourism industry. This contrasts with little more than $2 million over the previous seven years.

In April 1974, the Ministry introduced the Ontario Travel Association Program (OTAP) to fund tourism marketing and development activities. The 39 former provincially-funded tourist councils were consolidated into 12 travel association areas and each was given a $30,000 administrative grant along with $45,000 cost sharing monies.

Through the Division of Tourism's numerous programs, supported by $6.5 million budget in 1974, specialized promotional literature was produced and distributed throughout the province, Canada and the world; millions of dollars were spent on advertising here and abroad; a program was established to stimulate an increased number of conventions in Ontario; special studies and marketing surveys were conducted; a cross-index system was developed covering the main tourism industry segments (lodging, food-beverage services, recreation); an advisory service distributed information to Canadians and foreigners on tourism business opportunities and areas of major tourism development potential; and more than 300 operators and would-be tourism entrepreneurs received technical help in developing feasibility and financial forecasts for particular projects.

Minden OPP report

Charges laid after two weekend mishaps

The Ontario Provincial Police Minden Detachment report the following activity for the period of September 15, 1975 to September 21, 1975. There were 41 General occurences investigated by the Detachment and 6 motor vehicle collisions. During the above period there were 8 break and enters reported, 1 offence under the Liquor Control Act and 1 person charged with impaired driving.

On Thursday, September 18, 1975, at 12:30 p.m. Douglas M. Pritchard, age 50, of Milne Street, Minden, was northbound on County Road 7 at West Guilford when his vehicle left the road, struck a rock cut on the east side of the road and then rolled onto its side causing an estimated $1500 damage. Mr. Pritchard suffered cuts and bruises in the mishap and was treated at the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital. Ontario Provincial Police Constable B.J. Connelly of the Minden Detachment investigated.

Careless driving and failing to report a collision, charges have been laid against 20 year old John R. Wilson of 177 Gage Avenue North, Hamilton, after the automobile he was driving westbound on Highway 121, east of Haliburton crossed over the road to the south shoulder and then entered the north ditch and rolled causing an estimated $1000 damage. The accident, on Saturday Sept. 20, at 10:00 p.m. was investigated by Constable D.W. Potter of the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

A two car accident on Highway 503, just east of the west junction of the Irondale Road on Sunday brought about charges of careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of a collision against John B. Bickle, age 19, of 110 Liberty Street, North, Bowmanville. A car driven by 47 year old Emmanuel A. Ferreira of 1660 Bloor St. East, Mississauga, and the Bickle vehicle were both westbound at 6:30 p.m. when the Bickle car attempted to pass and the driver lost control, the car striking the Ferreira automobile which in turn left the road and then struck a rock cut. Mr. Ferreira and a passenger in his car, 30 year old Jerri Ferreira, were both taken to the Minden Red Cross Hospital where they were treated for cuts and bruises. Damage was estimated at $3000, to the Ferreira car and $250 to the Bickle car, investigated by Ontario Provincial Police Constable W.G. Popp of the Minden Detachment.

Appointment to C.A.S. Board of Directors

Earlier this year the Haliburton County Social Planning Council invited Mr. George Dove of the Kawartha - Haliburton Children's Aid Society to speak at their meeting.

During the question peiod following Mr. Doves interesting account of the work of the C.A.S. questions were raised regarding Haliburton County's lack of representation on the board of directors.

Four members of the H.C.S.P.C. were appointed to meet with the C.A.S. staff in Lindsay to discuss this and other problems we face in our area. Mrs. Goldie Watson, Mrs. Peggie Neville, Mr. Gordon Sharpless and Rev. Don Nicholson met with the staff of the Children's Aid Society in Lindsay and while solutions to some problems were found, there still remained the fact that a resident of the county was not on the board of directors.

Recently this has been rectified and we are pleased to hear that Rev. Don Nicholson has been appointed to the board.

Mr. Nicholson is an excellent choice for this position as he has a natural rapport with children and has wide experience in family counselling.

Fight against arthritis

New drug discovered

Canadian physicians have a new weapon in their arsenal to relieve the pain, stiffness, and inflammation of joints in arthritis - but they still don't have a cure.

The weapon is in the form of a new drug discovered by Eli Lilly and Company called Nalfon, known generically as fenoprofen calcium. The profens are a relatively new class of prescription drugs that represent an advance in the treatment of the disease, according to Lilly researchers.

The drug's major asset is its ability to relieve pain and effectively reduce inflammation with less chance of side-effects commonly associated with the conventional forms of treatment -- A.S.A. and steroids.

Nalfon recently was approved by the Health Protection Branch, (HPB) for the treatment of osteo and rheumatoid arthritis.

Lilly officials claim the drug has undergone the most extensive evaluation of any drug in the company's 100-year history. More than 5,000 patients in 18 countries participated in the clinical trial program which resulted in about 39,000 pages of data submitted for HPB review. In just one study involving 216 patients suffering from rheumatoid arthritis, 51,000 separate laboratory tests were conducted. In all, more than 130 different studies were undertaken.

The firm is also quick to point out, however, that the drug is not a panacea -- it will not cure the disease that affects more than 1.5 million Canadians.

According to Lilly Researchers, progress to find a cure for arthritis has been terribly slow. As a result it is counted as one of the most important disabling diseases, requiring more effort and more insights to bring it under control. Thus far, no drug known will do for arthritis what penicillin did for pneumonia.

The researchers add, however, that the discovery of new drugs such as Nalfon is an important middle step in making the disease easier to live with until a cure can be found. They point out that because of the nature of the disease, each patient reacts differently to treatment, making it important that physicians have a variety of tools to turn to for treatment.

According to a Canadian Arthritic Society report, there are about 95,000 Canadians confined to be or wheelchair and 428,000 partially disabled due to arthritis. This results in 9,000,000 production days lost annually and a $457,000,000 loss to the economy.

Most serious, most painful, and most crippling, is rheumatoid arthritis, causing inflammation of joints, with women being affected about three times more often than men.

In announcing the new drug, Eli Lilly and Company (Canada) Limited, medical director, R.S. Dolman, M.D., emphasized the importance of a physician's treatment for the disease. "Because there is no cure for the disease, many arthritics feel it won't do any good to see a doctor, and instead, become the victims of quacks -- to the tune of an estimated $4 million a year -- while others just quietly suffer. It is important that arthritics know legitimate treatment by a qualified physician can bring relief and prevent disability," he said.

Dr. Dolman also noted that arthritis sufferers in Canada are probably more fortunate than those in most countries in the world because of the variety of proven anti-arthritic drugs Canadian physicians now have available to treat their patients.

Lilly first introduced Nalfon in South Africa in October 1973. The drug is currently available in a number of countries outside Canada, including Brazil, Spain, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.

It's hockey time again

Believe it or not it's hockey time once again. To kick the season off the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association will be holding their General Meeting this coming Tuesday, September 30th, at 8:00 p.m. at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

There is a great need for more people to help as coaches, managers, referees and so on, so if you feel that you can offer some assistance in any capacity, please try to make it a point of getting out to this all important meeting. All parents and friends of hockey are welcome.

There is a saying that if you want to keep a boy out of hot water, then keep him on ice. In an effort to keep him on ice it takes a lot of help and this is where you can come in. Don't forget the date. It's Tuesday, September 30th, 8:00 p.m. Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Trent-Severn waterway

Minimum flows are still continuing out of the Reservoir Lakes and the lake levels are nearing the winter drawdown elevations.

While the lack of water since May has caused a lot of inconvenience throughout the System, one operation is benefitting from the shortage.

The dam at Lock #19 in the City of Peterborough is being repaired underwater and the dam at Lock #13 is being rebuilt. Low flows will greatly facilitate this work.

The Stuff of Legends

The name "Booth" should be at least vaguely familiar to most Park visitors. There is a large lake east of Opeongo named Booth Lake, and of course there is the Booth's Rock Trail near the Rock Lake Campground. But then, there are hundreds of places in the Park named in honour of now obscure historical figures, and you might well wonder why we are singling out Booth for special attention at this time.

As a matter of fact, there are two excellent reasons for doing so. The first is that John Rudolphus (J.R.) Booth was a truly remarkable man who had a tremendous influence on Canada and Algonquin Park, and the second reason is that this year marks the fiftieth anniversary of his death back in the year 1925.

However unknown J.R. Booth may be today, you could hardly have helped knowing about him half a century ago. His death at the age of 98 removed the still active head of a huge business empire. Newspapers all over North America ran front page stories and headlines. From the Prime Minister of Canada on down, came tributes to the courage, fairness, and unaffected ways of the great man.

But none of this tells us who J.R. Booth really was, how he came to such prominence, or anything about his influence on Algonquin. In the space remaining to use, we would like to at least touch on the major points of his career.

J.R. was born in 1827, the son of a homesteader, in the eastern townships of Quebec. As a boy, he worked on his father's farm, received very little schooling, and apparently had no greater ambition than to become a carpenter. Even this goal was at odds with the will of his authoritarian father, and after an unsuccessful attempt to run away and join the California gold rush, the young J.R. resigned himself to life on the farm until he was 21. He then moved to Vermont, and worked as a carpenter until he had saved enough money to come home, marry and settle down. But it was not much later, in 1852, that J.R. pulled up stakes, and moved to Ottawa with his wife, a newly born daughter, and 9 dollars to his name.

Living in rented rooms, he walked 3 miles to work each morning, back again in the evening, and then turned out shingles in the backyard. With all the money he had saved and all he could borrow, J.R. soon went into business for himself full time, buying the timber rights to small areas of woodland, and leasing a succession of mills. Only 3 years after Booth arrived in Ottawa, the little town of 8,000 people was chosen as a capital, and a contract was let to supply wood for the new parliament buildings. Booth landed the contract and made a profit of 15 thousand dollars, thanks in great measure to his innovative use of horses to haul his logs (oxen had been used until then), and his recruitment of unemployed longshoremen from Montreal. J.R. had to teach them personally how to use an axe, but he also secured their labours for much less money than was demanded by the professional axemen. (Those original parliament buildings, incidentally, burned to the ground in 1916, all except the parliamentary library which still stands today).

Although J.R. Booth was a success by this time, and had acquired outright ownership of his first mill in 1860, he was still a rather small operator, with very small timber limits, and nowhere near enough capital to acquire any really big areas. He did have one very important asset, however. This was his credit, based on a solid reputation for hard work, determination, and good judgement. He capitalized on this credit in 1867 by out-bidding the established timber barons in the auction of the "Egan estate", 150 square miles of prime pine, now lying mostly in Algonquin Park. It cost J.R. Booth $45,000 of borrowed money to get these limits but the profits he reaped were many times this amount. These and subsequent profits were poured into greater and greater expansion of his holdings.

By 1894, Booth owned close to 4000 square miles of timber, and produced one million feet of sawn lumber each day in the world's largest mill, employing some 1500 men. Booth himself was one of the continent's richest men, a millionaire many times over.

He was also in the process of building a 264 mile railway from Ottawa west to Georgian Bay at Parry Sound, crossing the new Algonquin Park on the way. Booth had been in the railroad business since 1878 when he had acquired a line running from Vermont to Ottawa, but it was not a money-maker. It was fairly typical of Booth that he decided it could be profitable if he spent more money on it - hence the 264 mile extension. J.R. reckoned that the line could carry not only the timber from his own Algonquin limits, but also western grain shipped across the Great Lakes. As usual, he was right, and the new line, whose abandoned roadbed can be seen at Canoe, Source, Cache, Two Rivers and Rock Lakes, was for a time the busiest in Canada. For many years it was the only practical means of access for Park visitors, and for this reason alone, it had an incalculable influence on the development and history of Algonquin. But the new line did more than make the Park accessible. Until then, the only trees cut in Algonquin had been red and white pine because only they could be floated out on the rivers. The railroad changed that and may have led to the policy change which in 1900 allowed all tree species (not just pine) to be cut in the Park.

Although Booth had made himself the sole owner of an industrial empire worth millions, he always rose at 6 a.m. and preferred working in overalls out in the millyard - a fact much appreciated by his employees. They also appreciated his generosity, but soon learned that he could not be pushed. One man, a driver who had received a 50c tip from J.R., mentioned that Mr. Booth's son always gave a dollar.

"That's different" replied old J.R., "that boy has a rich father, but I'm an orphan".

Set Apart for God

"The very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ". 1 Thessalonians 5:23.

What a glorious truth it is to know that by the virtue of the finished work of Christ there has been credited to the believer, the complete atoning work of the Son by God the Father. In His sight, a child of His stands complete in Christ the Saviour. Colossians 2:10. 3:3.

To be sanctified means to be set apart, once for all and forever, by the finished work of Christ on Calvary. The minute a sinner turns to Him in true repentance, forgiveness follows and that forgiven one is set apart from the world and unto God. Being set apart by God and for God calls for continual and progressive sanctification, even unto the coming of the Lord for His own. 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18.

Many believers and others have thought that a sanctified life means sinless perfection. Such perfection is nowhere found and the ones who walk closest with our Lord feel their imperfections the keenest. All we are and ever hope to be is found only in our identification with the One who saved us. Since no one can save themselves in the first place, it is not unreasonable that no one can keep themselves saved. The Lord Jesus alone can save and He alone can keep us from falling. Jude 1:24-25.

The joy of the Christian life is very dependant upon the measure to which one lets the Holy Spirit show things that do not belong to a sanctified life. This is a daily process and obedience to the revealed will of God as set forth in the Word of God results in joyful Christian living.

Is it too much to say that Heaven will be enjoyed in much the same measure that our Christian life is enjoyed? Our capacity to enjoy the Hereafter is made up here on earth as we yield our spirit, soul and body to the guidance of the Holy Spirit who delights to make Christ our Saviour more real to us. The greater our capacity to enjoy Him here on earth, the greater our capacity will be to enjoy Him forever in Glory. This is why progressive sanctification becomes so necessary, we need our vision filled with the goodness of the Lord.

It becomes very essential that we be guided by the Word of God in sound sanctified common sense, lest we be driven into fanaticism. Our hearts and heads must be guided by the Holy Spirit through the written Word of God and thus the day by day process of living and walking in the ways of God continues. Without this daily walk with Him who saved us, no sign of a separated or sanctified life appears. We continue to walk with the crowd and deny the Lord who purchased our redemption. True sanctification or being set apart for God reveals itself in a Godly walk and continues until the Lord calls us Home and complete sanctification becomes our portion.

The challenge of the hour is to live and enjoy the separated life unto God. In the degree that we compromise with the world, the flesh, or the devil, to that degree our Godly walk is being hindered. No small wonder that the Lord of the Church is calling loudly in these closing days of the Church Age. Revelation 3:20. The saving and keeping power of our blessed Lord stands ready to help us to be what God wants us to be here and now. Only then will the Christian life be full and useful and enjoyed by the Child of God and those around him. Are you a happy Christian?

Church of Christ

It is a church that you can read about in the Bible (Romans 16:16) Can you read about yours?

It has NO CREED but the Bible, and it binds no name on its members but Christ (1Peter 4:16; Acts 11:26; Acts 4:12) Where do you go to find you creed? What name do you wear? If it's not CHRISTIAN and that alone, you are wearing a name that is not authorized by God's word.

It speaks where the Bible speaks, and is silent where the Bible is silent (1 Peter 4:11).

It exalts Christ as the only head of the church, as is taught by the Bible (Colossians 1:18). When you are asked, who the head of your church is, do you answer with the name of some man?

It's acts of Worship are patterned strictly after the New Testament examples (John 4:24).

It teaches that scriptural unity can be achieved on all disputed doctrinal questions (1 Corinthians 1:10; John 17:21).

It's aim is to lead souls to Christ by the Gospel (Mark 16:15,16; Matthew 28:19, Romans 1:16).

These are but a few of the reasons why you should investigate the Church of Christ. If you believe that there is life after death, you should be as sure as you possibly can be that you are pursuing the safest course.

Look after those houseplants

Now is the time to move hose house plants, that have been summering in the garden, back into the house, according to horticultural experts.

Since these plants will not withstand freezing weather it s important to bring them nto the house before the first frost. However, it is wise to bring poinsettias in a little earlier since they dislike the cool, fall weather. Christmas cactus and azaleas need the cooler temperatures to help set buds.

Even some normal outdoor bedding plants can give extra months of bloom indoors. Fibrous begonias, geraniums and impatiens can be pinched back severely, potted up and brought in before frost touches them. Fed every two weeks on "CIL Geranium Food" and set in a sunny window. They can go on blooming all winter.

If they are still in the pot, moving is a relatively simple task. However, if they have been planted in the garden greater care is required in moving them.

The first step actually, is to prepare the pot. The following pertains primarily to the common, earthen, planting pot, but all pots should be cleaned. Clean thoroughly and remove any salt or lime incrustations. As a final step sterilize the pot to kill any insect eggs or disease germs. You can use boiling water or a dilute solution of household chlorine bleach.

Pot size is also important. The root system of a plant is roughly the same spread of the foliage, so it is important that the pot be large enough, as wide across as the foliage spread. If the plant was in a pot all summer it may have outgrown that pot size and require re-potting.

Soil is also important. You can purchase a potting plant mixture, or make up your own. A good soil mixture consists of one part coarse sand, one part sterilized soil, and one part well decayed plant material (compost), or peat moss.

Good drainage in the pot is essential, but many home gardners make the error of blocking the bottom of the pot. Put a good layer of broken crockery or coarse gravel on the bottom. "Turface" a porous calcined clay, has many uses for the home gardener. It can make up 1/3 of the soil mix, and a one inch layer on the bottom of the pot will aid in "drown proofing" the plant. Dig up the plant carefully so the roots remain in a ball of soil and plant at the appropriate height in the pot. Place the plant in the pot so the surface of the soil will be an inch below the rim of the pot to allow for watering. Firm down the soil around the root ball.

With the plant potted, now is the time to cut off all discolored or dead blossoms and leaves. Destroy these as they may carry disease spores or insect eggs.

Water the plant well. Since feeding is necessary as well as watering, for a healthy plant, it is recommended that a solution of one teaspoon of "Green Elf" per quart of water be prepared and used. This will help the plant recover from the shock of transplanting. By using this solution every two or three weeks in lieu of a normal watering you are assured of meeting the continuing feeding requirements.

Protecting potted plants in the house from insects by spraying is sometimes inconvenient due to lack of suitable equipment, or inadequate space or ventilation. A simpler method is to apply "CIL SLIK" as a soil drench, whereby a solution is soaked into the soil. The systemic portion of the mix is taken up by the plant roots and enters the leaves and stems in the sap system. Sucking insects such as aphids, leafminers, mites and whiteflies are controlled as they attempt to feed on the plant.

For bromeliads, carnation, chrysanthemum, crassula, Easter Lily, impatiens, kalanchoe, and orchids, mix one teaspoons "SLIK" in one quart (40 oz.) of water and slowly pour ½ cup (4 oz.) of this solution onto moist soil in each 6" pot.

For most other flowering and foliage plants use two teaspoons per quart of water. Drench with 1 cup solution per 6" pot. Pots larger or smaller than the 6" example will take more or less of the same solution according to size. Examples, ¼ cup per 4" pot, and 2 cups per 10" pot.

It is suggested that plants moved in from the garden or re-potted plants be given the first application of "SLIK" two or three days after they have been moved. Allow at least six weeks between applications of "SLIK".

Incidentally, most house plants require about four hours of sunshine per day, or the equivalent in artificial light. This should be taken into consideration when deciding where to place plants in the house.

Responsibilities of Superintendents

The responsibilities of a provincial park superintendent in Ontario are wide and varied. Most superintendents are employed on a year-round basis by the Ministry of Natural Resources in 120 parks spread throughout forty-nine districts. In the Ministry's Algonquin Region, which is comprised of the districts of Parry Sound, Bracebridge, Minden, Bancroft, Pembroke and Algonquin Park, thirteen superintendents manage an equal number of parks.

On any given day in July or August, most parks contain a sufficient number of visitors to populate either a good size town, or a small city. Like the captain of a ship, or the pilot of a plane, his position demands sufficient authority to carry out his unique and heavy responsibilities.

In the course of his duties, a park superintendent temporarily acts as the Mayor, Chief of Police, Fire Chief, Host, Official Greeter, Gamekeeper, Banker, Purchasing Agent, and Personnel Administrator. He is the superintendent of waterworks, electrical power, roads, campsites, beaches, construction maintenance, and sanitation. He variously serves as carpenter, electrician, plumber, mechanic and the inventor of ingenious devices.

At anytime of the day or night, a park superintendent is the dispenser of band-aids, comfort, security, discipline, compassionate messages and ambulances. He must act as a mediator of disputes, a purveyor of law and order, an able educator, a master of ceremonies, a gifted entertainer, an organizer of searches for lost children, and an ambassador of goodwill.

The greatest concern of a park superintendent is probably over-use. On one hand, the superintendent is expected to attract a sufficient volume of visitors to cover either all, or a high percentage of his operating costs, exclusive of capital costs. On the other hand, if he operates the park at 100% capacity, or exceeds capacity by using overflow areas, his park will "wear out" in no time.

This point is reached when the volume of vehicle and pedestrian traffic exposes tree roots sufficiently to kill the tree cover, and the lush growth on the forest floor is trampled to death. At this stage, the city dweller who seeks solitude, a change of pace, and a wilderness experience becomes frustrated. At this juncture, the costs of refurbishing the park will exceed the losses he would have suffered had he through cold-bloodedness turned away 30 per cent of his visitors at the gate. No compassionate superintendent can bring himself to do this, particularly to a working man at eleven p.m. on a Friday night in a car filled with crying children.

In times of recession and inflation, it is difficult for parks to maintain the level of capital spending necessary to keep abreast of the demand for public camping. Private campsite developers are also prevented from expanding for similar reasons. To aggravate conditions further, the 1975 camping season witnessed an unusually hot summer, preceded by 5 years of overly wet and cool ones.

Another false forecast which misled parks management was the expected drop in park visitation due to the high cost of gasoline, the energy crisis both the U.S.A. and Canada, plus the lowered speed limits in U.S.A. While 1975 did see a significant drop in American visitors, there was, however, a sufficient increase in Canadian visitors to push the estimated 1975 park attendance figures 10 to 15 per cent over that of 1974. This increase is thought to be due to the general swing in the populace from a summer of cottaging to low cost camping.

During the next eight months until the parks re-open in May, all park superintendents will be fully occupied with the task of closing worn-out campsites and re-opening new ones, plus repairs to roads, buildings, signs, picnic tables and beaches. And during the long cold winter, while we work in comfort, he will be trucking sand across the frozen lakes to improve his beaches. At this time, in periods of relative quiteness, many thoughts cross his mind. Perhaps his thoughts dwell on problems such as nuisance bears, the control of black flies and mosquitos, the child who almost drowned, how to stretch his budget to keep up with the spiralling costs of firewood, and how to best control the distribution of firewood fairly and without waste. Other days he thinks of law enforcement, rowdyism, motorcyclists, and how to accommodate the ever-increasing number of campers bringing second cars.

Some days, however, he is as pleased as punch to receive a Christmas card from John Camper in Redwater, Alberta thanking him for a memorable vacation. And once in a long while he smiles when reading a letter of thanks from an eight-year old he saved from drowning.

Consumers Gas Company

Public hearing

TORONTO - Most Consumers' Gas customers in southern Ontario will pay slightly less to heat their homes while those on the Niagara Peninsula will pay more, as the result of a decision announced today by the Ontario Energy Board.

The announcement follows a public hearing at which The Consumers' Gas Company asked for approval of rate changes for several classes of customers.

The changes are, in part, the result of a proposal by the company to make rates uniform throughout Consumers' Gas territory.

For a typical householder buying natural gas for home heating and one other use in or near Toronto, Oshawa, Peterborough or Ottawa, the new rates will mean a decrease of about $8 from an annual bill of $300.

For a comparable customer in most of the Niagara Peninsula, where a typical annual bill has been about $254., there will be a two-stage increase to reach the same $292 level as Consumers' other residential customers. The first stage, representing about half the total increase, will take place within the next few weeks, the second a year from now.

Customers in the Grimsby area of the peninsula will move up to the uniform level with a single increase of about $18 a year, effective within the next few weeks.

It will take several weeks for the company to design new rate schedules and for the board to approve them, spokesmen explained.

They said the company's overall revenue will not be affected by the changes.

Noting that all cost-allocation studies presented to it show a very large under-contribution to overall revenue requirements by residential customers and an over-contribution by large industrial customers, the board provided in its decision that only the cost increases resulting from increases in the cost of purchased gas would be passed on at this time to the large-volume customers. However, the board rejected the company's proposal to provide further rate relief for large-volume industrial customers.

The board also ordered Consumers' Gas to change its method of setting rates for large-volume customers. Until now, the company was free to negotiate such rates within broad limits approved by the board. This system was beneficial to all customers during the company's developmental stage but is no longer appropriate and must be discontinued, the board ruled. Instead, the company must gradually adopt a system of specifically approved rates.

The company was also told to end its practice of "multiple location billing" in which customers served at more than one location are allowed to totalize their consumption to qualify for large-volume discounts. Some 270 government and commercial customers at 12,000 locations are affected.

Commenting on the cost of service study which the company presented to support its rate proposals, the board said it wanted future studies to be based on current-year (budgetary) data rather than on historic costs, and to give more attention to incremental costs and to economically sound measures for conserving energy.

The new rates will likely come into effect within a few weeks, after the company has prepared new rate schedules in keeping with the decision, a board spokesman said.

He said customers with questions about the impact of the board's decision on their rates should inquire at The Consumers' Gas Company, 19 Toronto Street, Toronto.

In Memoriam

MISCOE - In memory of a dear father, Mike, who passed away September 25th, 1972.

How I wish that I could say
I'm going to see my dad today
His welcome smile, his heart of gold
No greater dad the world could hold.
We cannot have those days back
When we were all together
But secret tears and loving thoughts
Will be with me forever.

Sadly missed by daughter Ruby, Ellwood and family.

Thank-You

I would like to express my thanks to all my many relatives and friends for their gifts and to my family for their gift of money, I received upon the occasion of my surprise 76th birthday party held at my home. Also, Minden Florist, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thompson, Mrs. Ruby Johnson and Mrs. Nellie Rowden for their lovely bouquet of flowers; to all the ladies who prepared the lunch and birthday cake; and to Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Redner. I feel as though I cannot thank you all enough.
